VERDICT BRINGS 2 SETTLEMENTS IN R. R. CASES

An Adams county jury, hearing the first appeal in years from a finding of a county board of view this morning returned a verdict in favor of Frank R. and Dulcie Heverly, who were appealing for damages sustained by their property from the re-location of the Western Maryland railroad between Guildens and Brush Run.

The jury awarded the Heverlys $900. The board of view had offered $950.

The verdict came after an hour and ten minutes of deliberation by the jury which retired at 10 o'clock this morning to consider the case.

Six residents of the section affected by the re-location of the railroad had brought appeals against the findings of the viewers. The case of Edgar W. and Margaret J. Weaner was on trial and a jury had been drawn for the appeal of R. C. Mackley when Paul M. Schwartz, East Berlin, foreman of the Heverly jury presented the findings.

Two Settled Quickly

Immediately, the appeals of Mackley and of G. Neville and E. Gertrude Waters were withdrawn.

The jury empaneled for the Mackley case was directed by the court to find in favor of Mackley in the sum of $1,825, the amount the viewers had offered.

As soon as that was out of the way, the same jury was sworn in on the Waters appeal and was directed to bring a verdict of $2,250 in favor of Mr. and Mrs. Waters, the amount offered by the board of viewers.

The same jury was then sworn in again to bring a directed verdict in the appeal of Ellis R. and Z. Blanche Miller, which had been previously withdrawn. The directed verdict was for $2,500, the amount found by the board of view.

Only two appeals remain to be settled, those of the Weaners and Samuel K. Osborne.

Two Masters Named

The Weaner case, for which some evidence was taken Monday was to be resumed at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon. Four actions in trespass are also awaiting trial.

Attorneys at the court house today admitted they could not recall when an appeal had been taken previously from a county board of view, with some searching their memory back through several decades.

Donald P. McPherson, Jr., Esq., was appointed master in the divorce action of Martha Ellen Pepple, Gettysburg, versus Clair F. Pepple.

John P. Butt, Esq., was appointed master in the divorce action of Sarah Carrie Showaker Fair versus Elvin Eugene Fair.

The jury empaneled for the Mackley case, included J. C. Biesecker, Ottantina; Ellsworth P. Bream, Bendersville; Melvin L. Breighner, Gardnersville; John H. Group, East Berlin; David C. Myers, New Oxford R. 2; Joseph McIntire, Fairfield R. 1; John Staub, New Oxford; Lewis Smith, East Berlin; Paul Smith, McSherrystown; Donald C. Walter, Gettysburg R. 2; Harold Wentz, Gettysburg; and Albert S. Wolf, Littlestown R. 1.

Burgess Pfeiffer Is Lions Club Speaker

Predictions of an Allied victory and post-war developments were made by Burgess Fred G. Pfeiffer in a talk Monday evening before the local Lions club on "World Betterment."

Pfeiffer said that after the war geopolitics will play an ever increasing role in world affairs and forecast that the United States will be called upon to assume leadership in the post-war world with some protests expected from Russia and England.

In the post-war world the United States will become the aviation center of the world and therefore the center of world activities.

President William A. Beales presided at the meeting with 22 clubmen in attendance. He announced a regional meeting in York this evening when Edward Paine, president of Lions International, will be a speaker. A local delegation expects to attend the dinner meeting.

C. J. BUSHMAN, BUILDER, DIES VERY SUDDENLY

Charles J. Bushman, 60, a well-known builder and contractor, died suddenly at his home, Gettysburg R. 3, this morning at 9:45 o'clock as he prepared to leave for Gettysburg where he was under subpoena as a witness in a pending court case.

Dr. C. G. Crist, the Adams county coroner, was conducting an investigation into the cause of death this afternoon.

He arose in apparently his usual health this morning and went to Arendtsville to start his workmen who are engaged in building a house. He returned to his home to shave and dress before leaving for court. Mrs. Bushman heard a noise in the kitchen of their home as she worked in the garden and investigated. She found her husband lying on the floor. She administered first aid and called neighbors and Dr. Raymond Hale from Arendtsville. Death occurred before the doctor arrived.

Member of St. James

For a number of years Mr. Bushman had worked as a carpenter and building contractor and had erected a number of barns and homes in the county. He also did plumbing and painting.

The deceased was a native of Adams county and was a son of the late Samuel F. and Sarah Jane (Lady) Bushman. He resided all of his life in this county. He was a member of St. James Lutheran church and the Men's Bible class of the Sunday school. He and the former Mary M. Pfeiffer were married in 1911.

COUNTY SCHOOL HEADS OPPOSE STATE POLICY

Directors of the Adams county school board Monday night took issue with state school authorities over plans of state officials to keep schools open 180 days in an informal debate brought about by discussion of laws pending in the state Legislature.

During the debate the directors pointed out that:

Children could not work nearly a full day on the farms and still have energy enough to "get anything out" of a shortened school day.

The schools "should be allowed to slip now and the rules should be tightened up after the war is over."

"We're facing an awful year—we must feed ourselves and all the Allied nations."

"The schools can suffer—if we lose the war, we will have no schools."

"We're in a war. We must get the things planted and we must get them harvested—and we've got the boy-power and girl-power to do it."

"A 12-year-old boy can drive a tractor and do as much work as a man. And under those circumstances a father should have the boy to work on the farm."

To Use "Best Judgment"

Following the long discussion at a meeting held in the office of County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh, the school directors informally agreed that school secretaries should "use their own best judgment" when a request is made asking that a boy or girl be allowed a work permit to help on the farms. However, the board pointed out that the work permits should be considered as usable only on good working days, on wet days, when it is impossible to work, the youngsters should be back in school.

Superintendent Slaybaugh was one of the strongest advocates of allowing the school system wide latitude in permitting children to be free of school in order to work on the farms, as shown by his remarks during the informal round-table discussion of the problem.

Bill's Provisions

The discussion came about as the board was considering a number of bills now before the Legislature. A particular bill was Senate Bill 34, introduced by Senator Homsher which has passed the state Senate and is now in the House Education (Please Turn to Page 2)

Graduates From Bombing School

Sgt. Charles Haner, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Haner, Gettysburg R. 2, has just recently graduated from the Bombing and Gunnery School at Wendover Field, Utah. During his ten-weeks' stay at Wendover, he was subjected to combat conditioning, actual firing of machine guns, and all theoretical and practical courses vital to aerial gunners in the performance of their duties. He will now be assigned to a tactical unit and receive actual experience in combat maneuvers.

Wendover Field is situated on the edge of the great salt flats of Utah. It has only been in operation for a few months, but is already one of the nation's most important training centers for heavy bomber crews. There is at Wendover a natural bombing range of over 2,000,000 acres, or a territory twice the size of Rhode Island.

Axis Mountain Barriers Wilt Under Crushing Allied Attacks

By WES GALLAGHER

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, April 27 (AP)—Allied armored forces have driven to within four miles of the Tunis-Pont Du Fahs road and have destroyed 80 German tanks in the big-scale battle which has raged since Sunday, Allied quarters announced today.

Farther north, the British First army infantry cleared 11 miles of the road from Medjez-El-Bab to Tebourba and reached Toun railroad station, only 23 miles west of Tunis, front line dispatches reported, and for the first time since last November the Allies were again on the threshold to the Tunis plain.

23 Miles From Ports

The same reports said the French skirting the Mediterranean had penetrated to within six miles of Lake Achkel, which almost adjoins Lake Bizerte. (Apparently this placed the British and French within 23 miles of both the twin cities of Bizerte and Tunis.)

In the sector between Medjez-El-Bab and the Mediterranean, the Americans of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., continued an advance so rapid that German rearwards were unable to bury their dead and assaulted the two strategic knobs, Green Hill and Bald Hill, the most heavily fortified mountains in the northern sector.

1,000 Aerial Sorties

These Allied thrusts accompanied gains all along the 140-mile front in fighting which the Allied headquarters communique characterized as of "unabated ferocity." They were participated in by Allied Air forces which flew more than 1,000 sorties in an air offensive which the announcement said was of "increasing intensity."

Armored spearheads of the British jabbing southeast of Goubellat threatened to cut off the big supply base of Pont Due Fahs, 34 miles southwest of Tunis, which already was menaced by the much-feared Moroccan Goumiers who had driven northeast along the Tunisian Dorsal to a hill overlooking the town.

The Goumiers "went like smoke" in their push on Pont Du Fahs from the southwest yesterday, front line dispatches said, and were within two miles of the objective.

The tank battle here, which appeared to be the key to the great fight raging all along the front, had cost the Germans 20 tanks in the last 24 hours.

New Medical Officer Assumes Duties Today

Captain Albert Kweedar, formerly stationed at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, today assumed his duties as medical officer for the 55th College Training Detachment at Gettysburg college. He replaces Captain George H. Hill, who left today to return to his former post in New Mexico.

Captain Kweedar is formerly of Illinois, and attended medical school with Captain Hill.

Pierce Mine Fields

The American advance in the Jena area, too, was against "extremely difficult resistance," with the German rearwards leaving heavy minefields behind to cover their general retreat.

But the main theaters were on the Axis' western flank where British Churchill tanks had been used in some cases to climb peaks 2,000 feet high and support the infantry.

But the Americans were reported making progress in the valley east of Sedjenane and west of Lake (Please Turn to Page 2)

DIRTY WEATHER
AHEAD FOR WAR
ADJUSTMENTS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Post-war reconstruction in Europe seems to be heading into some dirty weather, what with Soviet Russia's severance of relations with the Polish government in exile, and the diplomatic ties between Washington and our once good friend, Finland, shivering in the balance.

Moscow charges that the Poles, "to please Hitler's tyranny," have been accusing the Reds of murdering 10,000 Polish officers. The Soviet says that the Germans killed these men, and declares that "this hostile Polish campaign" was undertaken to wrest territorial concessions from Russia.

So in this Russo-Polish imbroglio we have ready-made one of the knottiest problems of any peace conference. Actually the Finnish refusal to abandon making war on Russia is a piece of the same cloth, for here again the question of territories is the real issue.

Ask War On Finland

Interested readers can at this point pin in their hats the memo that territorial adjustments are going to provide a lot of heartburnings and we'll be lucky if it stops at that.

Both the Polish and the Finnish situations are kicking up a lot of feeling. In this connection the National Committee of Finnish-American Trade Unionists, claiming to represent fifteen local committees spread throughout the country, has issued a statement in Newark calling on the United States to declare war on Finland as "an enemy of America and of the United Nations." It asserts that the reduction of the American legation staff in Helsinki is "another warning that will not be heeded by the Mannerheim (Field Marshal Baron Mannerheim) government."

Finnish Fiction

As a matter of fact, while no state of war exists between Finland and the United States, we are suffering—and the Allied cause is suffering—many of the damaging effects of a declared hostility. The Finns are working in full cooperation with the Huns in making war on our Russian ally.

Of course Helsinki maintains the fiction that the Finnish war is quite apart from the global conflict. This was emphasized at the time that Field Marshal Mannerheim visited Hitler at the latter's headquarters last June.

Well, you just can't split a hair which is as delicate as that one.

Mannerheim's first order of the day to his troops, as they went into battle against the Russians in June of 1941, summoned them to "a holy war against the enemy of our nation" and declared that "we set forth side by side of the mighty armed forces of Germany as their comrades in arms." If that doesn't make the Finns the allies of the Nazis, then language has ceased to have any meaning.

Many Nazi Medals

Finland is said to swarm with Germans. Field Marshal Mannerheim, who is the country's greatest hero and one of the outstanding personalities of her history, certainly seems friendly enough to the Axis. He has been decorated by the Germans and Italians until his be-medaled chest looks like that of a band-master. On the Baron's five-fiftieth birthday last June 4, Fuehrer Hitler flew clear from Germany to Helsinki to congratulate him and present him with the golden grand cross of the German eagle. The Nazi chief was accompanied by none less than Field Marshal Keitel, chief of his high command.

Taking it all in all, it looks as though little Finland has strained the bonds of friendship with the Allies pretty hard. Indications are that she will have to make a mighty quick shift in her attitude or take the consequences in the peace conference.

Pittsburgh, April 27 (AP)—Twenty-six western Pennsylvania coal mines were closed today as the area's total of striking miners—torn between a desire for higher wages and the wartime need for coal—nearly doubled to 14,700.

Based on the average output of six tons a man, the production loss increased to more than 88,000 tons a day.

England Had Solution
For Paper Shortage

Philadelphia, April 27 (AP)—Confronted by a paper shortage even more serious than the United States', Great Britain met it by reducing paper work, John J. Welch, editor of "Mill Supplies," who recently returned from a six-week tour of England during which he interviewed Production Minister Oliver Lyttleton and many others, said today.

Welch told a meeting of industrialists and suppliers that the paper "famine" and the manpower shortage led the British to "cut the red tape," reduce requirements for records and reports and bring about a simplified control system over distribution—key principle of which, he said, is the honor system.

"Control over products," Welch said, "is exercised at the producer level and there is little chance of excessive stocks piling up on distributors' shelves; hence inventory control, with its complicated stipulations, is not attempted."

Ask Bill's Passage

The board approved the measure along with a number of other bills pending in the state House and Senate, and directed the county superintendent's office to write a letter showing their approval and send copies to Assemblyman Worley, Senator Crider, and to the heads of the PSEA and the state school directors' association.

While passage of Senate Bill 34 would do much to help the situation, the board agreed, most members pointed out that the best regulation would be one that, until victory, would allow the schools to be open eight months or less a year. The board members pointed out that short sessions would be "less valuable than no sessions at all."

Consider 26 Measures

And while the youngsters would obtain no benefit from the session, it would still act to prevent them from giving a full day's work in the fields, the directors declared.

Twenty-six bills in all were considered by the board, with two of them being definitely opposed. The ones opposed would have provided for publication a complete audit of second, third and fourth class districts, instead of a summary. The board members pointed out the financial burden of such publication would be too great for most of the boards and would have no value because the audit is available for anyone wishing to see it. The other bill opposed makes it mandatory on school districts to pay teachers on sick leave for five full days and five half days. The board members pointed out that sick leave regulations passed by many boards makes the bill unnecessary.

Select Yake

The board expressed approval of bills providing among other things for election of the state superintendent by the state Council of Education; appropriation of $200 for each closed school to third class districts; membership of the executive secretary of the Pennsylvania State School Directors association on the school employees' retirement board; authorizing use of certified public accountants in third and fourth class districts; appropriate $3,000,000 for financially handicapped school districts, and increase the work hours, until victory, of minors 16 to 18 years of age, to 48 hours per week, and a number of other bills making changes in school laws and appropriations.

J. Francis Yake, Esq., was appointed as attorney for the board for the remainder of the school year.

The next meeting of the directors will be held May 24 at 8:30 p. m. in Superintendent Slaybaugh's office, the board decided.

AP Chief Cites Russian Motives

Philadelphia, April 27 (AP)—The "real reason" for the Soviet Union's break with the Polish government in exile is "Russia's desire to hold on to the western Ukraine and western White Russia," says Henry C. Cassidy, chief of The Associated Press Moscow bureau.

Another cause of the rupture, Cassidy told the Presbyterian Social Union last night, was the recent arrest by the USSR of many Polish relief agents on espionage charges.

He said he believed "the situation will be straightened out eventually with no real harm befalling the relations of the United Nations."

GOVERNMENT'S LABOR POLICIES
IN CRUCIAL TEST

Washington, April 27 (AP)—The government's wartime labor policies entered a crucial stage today as new walkouts and a threatened wave of strikes portended a possible nationwide tieup of the soft coal industry by the week's end.

While district leaders of the United Mine Workers gathered in New York for a policy committee meeting with President John L. Lewis, the War Labor board made its first appeal to the union leadership for help in stopping the spreading strikes.

Although UMW spokesmen said no strikes had been authorized, they pointed out that Lewis had not forbidden them, and the number of idle miners was estimated at more than 13,000 in the Pittsburgh and Birmingham areas.

The board announced that a panel which is to begin consideration of the issues tomorrow will be headed by Morris Llewellyn Cooke, Philadelphia engineer who was the first administrator of the rural electrification program, as the public's representative, Cooke is the panel chairman.

Appeal to Patriotism

Representing labor is David B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. The employer representative is Walter White, assistant to the chairman of the business advisory council of the Commerce department.

The WLB invited Lewis to submit several names as nominees for the labor representative, but this the UMW president failed to do, leaving the choice entirely up to the board.

The WLB's initial telegram to Lewis, Secretary-Treasurer Thomas Kennedy, and presidents of the districts where stoppages have occurred, appealed to the workers' patriotism. It made no reference to the board's policy of suspending consideration of the merits of a dispute while a strike is in progress.

Menus Must Be On File By Saturday

An announcement from the local War Price and Rationing board today reminded all restaurant and hotel proprietors that they must file with their local board before Saturday a menu or other statement showing the prices of food and beverages sold in their establishments during the seven-day period from April 4 to 10, inclusive.

The menu filing is required under a recent OPA Restaurant Price Control order. The order requires that the menus or price lists for the specified period must be signed when they are filed.

LEGION WOMEN
PLAN DANCE

The Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion will act as sponsors for the USO dance to be held for the aircrew members at the college, May 15. The Auxiliary accepted an invitation from the USO to act as sponsors at its regular meeting Monday evening at the Legion home. Mrs. Joseph E. Codori was appointed as chairman for the dance.

A concerted drive for members during the coming month was urged by the Auxiliary, after reports disclosed that only 112 memberships have been secured during the current drive which closes in a month. The number is below the quota assigned, it was stated.

Plans for a rummage sale to be held May 7 and 8 at the Auxiliary rooms in the Legion building were discussed. Nominations of officers will be held at the May 15 meeting, it was announced.

Mrs. Earl Smith was appointed refreshments chairman while Mrs. Morris Giffin was named as entertainment chairman for May. Mrs. Howard Hartzell, president of the club, presided.

Second "Opening Day" In Major Leagues Today Expected To Attract 90,000

ATTENDANCE TO DATE HAS BEEN DISAPPOINTING

By JUDSON BAILEY
AP Sports Writer

The major leagues will undergo another attendance test from baseball fans, or vice versa, today as the National and American leagues present their "second openers," the home debuts of the clubs which have been on the road since the start of the season.

Advance estimates were that about 90,000 fans would turn out for the eight games and if the predictions are fulfilled baseball not only will have its biggest day of the spring, but will have a load lifted off its collective mind.

The schedule and the expected attendance:

National league—Boston at New York 15,000; Cincinnati at Pittsburgh 15,000; Chicago at St. Louis 10,000; Brooklyn at Philadelphia 7,000.

American league—St. Louis at Detroit 25,000; New York at Boston 10,000; Cleveland at Chicago 5,000; Philadelphia at Washington 4,000.

Seek Solutions
Up till now attendance at games has been far below expectations and observers have been casting around for explanations as well as solutions. The approximate total turnout for 27 ball games (doubleheaders counted as one, of course) has been 249,000 divided 126,400 in the National league for 13 dates and 121,600 in the American league for 14 dates.

Two National league clubs, the Cincinnati Reds and the Phillies already have announced forthcoming experiments with morning games. Most of the members of the senior circuit also have decided to use last year's baseballs till a new and livelier model of the 1943 balata ball can be produced.

Change Balls
The Brooklyn Dodgers returned to the 1942 ball over the week-end. The New York Giants will use it today in their home opener with the Braves at the Polo grounds. The Pittsburgh Pirates, the Phillies, Reds and St. Louis Cardinals also have placed hasty orders for supplies of last year's balls and will put them in use as soon as they arrive.

The American league has stood pat on the balata ball and President Harbridge said, when the discussion first opened last week, that his circuit would not deviate from the 1943 model under any circumstances.

NAZI LOOTING SAID WORST IN WORLD HISTORY

Washington, April 27 (AP)—German looting of occupied Europe was pictured by the Board of Economic Warfare today as surpassing in "magnitude and ruthlessness" all previous conquests in history.

The board estimated Germany had plundered $36,000,000,000 by the end of 1941 and the rate since then is accelerating into "tens of billions of dollars per year." It added:

"Not only has wealth, accumulated over centuries, been carried back to Germany, but the industries, natural resources, and labor power of the occupied countries are under absolute German domination."

Its reports, the board said, show that armaments and other military equipment have been taken from all the vanquished armies of Europe.

Traded Materials
"Thousands of machines have been dismantled and moved to Germany, with laboratory and scientific equipment from the greatest institutes in Europe," the board reported. "Horses, cattle, sheep, pigs and fats have been confiscated, public galleries and private collections stripped of art objects, and office furniture, park benches, and garden tools taken."

Describing Poland as the outstanding example of confiscation of public property, the board estimated the loot there at $2,900,000,000.

Military equipment from Australia and Czechoslovakia was traded to southeastern European countries for foodstuffs and raw materials, the report said, but was recovered later when Germany invaded those countries.

"As Much as She Can Get"
"Considerable quantities of relatively obsolete equipment were sold to Japan," the board added.

"In trading with occupied countries Germany takes as much as she can get, and defers payment whenever possible," the board explained. "Where the occupation costs are sufficiently high, for example France and Norway, clearing debts are wiped out by the credit balances at the disposal of Germany; in other cases the Nazis simply regard this mounting debt as long-term, interest-free loans from the creditor countries."

Gomez Beats Miller In 10-Round Fight

Scranton, April 27 (AP)—Andre "Indian" Gomez, 157, of New York, gained a split 10-round verdict over Neil Miller, 152, of Wilkes-Barre, in the featured bout last night.

In scheduled six rounds: Charley Subatella, 150, Dunmore, Pa., decisioned Charles Winkler, 154, Newark, N. J.; Steve Kukol, 150, Binghamton, N. Y., decisioned Frank Falco, 153, Pittston; Jack Cunningham, 126½, Passaic, N. J., knocked out Willie Higgins, 130, Johnson City, N. J.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, April 27 (AP)—Maybe what's been said about the new blooper baseball is true, but Andy Coakley, former major league player and manager and coach at Columbia for more years than you can remember, figures that lack of training this spring has a lot to do with low-hit games. . . . Andy's Lions have played with both the old and the new baseballs this spring and, while the new one is a lot slower, he claims it will go if its hit right.

QUOTE, UNQUOTE

"They haven't had any real practice this spring because of the weather," Coakley points out. "The only way you can get hitting practice is to hit." . . . Those general conditioning exercises the players endured in camp, he says, may have helped the pitchers to get into shape for throwing, which would be another point on their side. . . . "You know what the colleges are doing?" Andy asks. "The ones with good hitting teams are using the old livelier ball. We're using the new one at Columbia."

SPORTS MENTION

W. E. Boeing, the airplane man, hasn't seen his two Derby candidates, Slide Rule and Twosies, since he bought them. And he's too busy with war work to watch them run for the roses. . . . Marine Capt. Dan Topping, owner of the football Dodgers, got a plane priority for his wife, Sonja Henie, when they went west last week but had to take the train himself. . . . Sonja was on her way to a Red Cross benefit but Dan was just a Marine on leave. . . . Van Savage, former trans-Mississippi golf champion, now is punching cows in Nevada. . . . Eddie Araro, hopeful that his jockey's license will be restored before too long, is about the most popular exercise boy at Belmont park these days. . . . Earl Reynolds, the old-time skater who has a couple of roller-skating acts in the circus at the Garden, is grandfather of Eddie Lemaire, who won the national figure skating title in the same arena a few weeks ago.

CIRCULATION NOTE

Jimmy Conzelman has been scared to death ever since he received that honorary degree from Dayton university. . . . The award started a fresh demand for copies of his famous commencement address, including a request from Senator Capper and one from a Milwaukee high school teacher who wanted to use it as a text in his "civilian advancement course." . . . Now Jimmy is afraid he'll have to make another speech talk.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

John Parker, Taunton (Mass.) Daily Gazette: "The only chance the Boston Braves might have this year of making the first division would be to reclassify the entire quod into 1-A."

SERVICE DEPT.

Maj. Del Avery, former Utah U. quarterback, has crashed four times in combat and each time he has gone back for more. Now he's flying against the Germans in north Africa. . . . Apparently under war rules you don't lose the ball after four towns. . . . Lieut. Alton R. Koon, former Wofford college football and basketball player, has succeeded Lieut. John R. Keating, ex-Rutgers athlete, as sports director at Camp Croft, South Carolina. It was a Koon-coached battalion team that won the Spartanburg City Basketball league title last season. . . . Navy Lieut. Leonard Hank, athletic officer on a destroyer that has been bouncing around the Aleutians, reports that a special technique is required for boxing bouts on the fantail of a destroyer. . . . The best attack is to wait for the ship to roll and then charge downhill. . . . But a smart defensive boxer learns when to sidestep and then its up to the other guy to keep from going overboard.

DORAZIO-BAKSI MATCH
Philadelphia, April 27 (AP)—Gus Dorazio, Philadelphia heavyweight, and Joe Baksi, of Kulpmont, Pa., have signed for a 10-round return match at the Arena May 10. Baksi won a decision over Dorazio at Washington March 26. Herbert Marshall, New York, and Louis Brooks, of Wilmington, Del., will meet in another 10-rounder on the same card.

DERBYVILLE IN TRIM FOR TRIAL MILE TRIP TODAY

By SID FEDER
Louisville, Ky., April 27 (AP)—

Derbyville put on the wartime version of its annual war paint today as 13 of the hopefuls and the "not-so-fulls" got out their running shoes to shoot for a spot in Saturday's select Kentucky Derby set.

The Derby trial mile was on the card today, and that's the annual jumping off spot for the daffy doings that are topped off by the $75,000 scramble Saturday. This time, the trial mile has drawn all but four of the "name" horses for Saturday's big spot, but despite the classy collection of hay-stokers who'll be on hand, the big interest of the day is in a gee-gee who is not even in the gallop.

This naturally is Count Fleet, the hottest Mr. Big ever to grab at the Derby brass ring. He's one of the quartet of Saturday's likely starters who won't try for the trial pot, but he'll keep his hand in by taking an airing over the full Derby mile and a quarter route.

Second Place

With the Fleet charting a different course and the Derby itself looking more and more like a "buy me a place ticket" affair, second place looms large for both today's preview and Saturday's main event.

The result is Warren Wright's Ocean Wave, Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' No Wrinkles, W. E. Boeing's Duet of Slide Rule and Twosies, J. Graham Brown's Seven Hearts, Mrs. Henry L. Finch's Modest Lad and Eddie (Rochester) Anderson's Burnt Cork are all given a chance today as well as a look-in for the runner-up slot Saturday.

PIRATES OPEN AT HOME TODAY

Pittsburgh, April 27 (AP)—War or no war, today's that grand old day, coming but once a year, when the home baseball season opens and thousands of fans can satisfy a winter's yearning by making that joyful trip to the ballpark.

Today, the weather man permitting, the Pirates take on Bill McKeechne's Cincinnati Reds, with Bob Klingering opposing Ray Starr, on the mound for the visitors.

The Bucs held a slight advantage in being able to present their regular lineup, while McKeechne was minus the services of two of his best men. Outfielder Myron (Mike) McCormick, ordered to report for army duty, was westward bound for his California home, while Ray Mueller, first string catcher and former Pirate, was nursing a mashed finger.

The Pirates estimated 15,000 fans would turn out to see the teams struggle with the dead 1943 ball. The local club, upon learning that some 1942 baseballs were still available, ordered 40 dozen of them yesterday, but they won't be here possibly until next week.

Fishermen Balk On OPA Ruling

Philadelphia, April 27 (AP)—Claiming the ocean is their "Victory garden," fishermen expressed indignation today at an OPA ruling that not a drop of gasoline can be sold for non-commercial fishing boats or any other craft used for pleasure, including outboard motorboats.

The anglers, contending they got the "hook" from the OPA, pointed out that auto owners with Victory gardens some distance from their homes are allowed enough gas for 300 miles driving in six months. "Fish would come in mighty handy with meat and many vegetables rationed," one fisherman said. "The fish we caught meant food on our own and on our friends' tables."

Since the OPA ruled rowboats okay, however, there will be no rationing of muscle power.

SEEK NEGROES

Lake Charles, La., April 27 (AP)—Military and civilian police searched southwest Louisiana today for two negro soldiers wanted in connection with the fatal shooting of guard Ralph S. Heimbach, of Bechtelsville, Pa., at the Lake Charles Army Airfield Sunday. Military police said the soldiers were being held on A.W.O.L. charges when they overpowered Heimbach and shot him with his own gun.

NEW POLICE PLAN

Harrisburg, April 27 (AP)—Abolition of local police forces and expansion of the state police to provide protection in every city and town is proposed in a bill introduced by Senator George Woodward (R-Phila.).

About 75 per cent of the lawn mower industry has been converted to war production.

Hutchinson Seeks Fight With Angott

Philadelphia, April 27 (AP)—With a well-earned decision over Bobby Ruffin officially on the record, Johnny Hutchinson, Philadelphia negro, today looked forward to a promised shot at Sammy Angott, Washington, Pa., holder of the lightweight crown before his short-lived retirement.

Hutchinson, 134½, gained a unanimous 10-round decision over Ruffin, 132, last night at the Arena before 7,656. Utilizing a flashy left jab, Hutchinson kept Ruffin off balance and on several occasions scored with right crosses that jarred the New Yorker.

The bout marked the second time in a few hours the two came to blows. At the weighing-in, officials had to pry them apart after Ruffin warned Hutchinson against throwing low punches in the scheduled fray. In three previous engagements, Hutchinson had lost rounds on low blows.

WILLIE PEP BEATS WILSON

Pittsburgh, April 27 (AP)—More than 5,000 fight fans jammed into the Gardens last night and saw featherweight champion Willie Pep, of Hartford, Conn., easily beat "Pittsburgh Jackie" Wilson, former NBA feather king, in 12 rounds.

Pep weighed 128 and Wilson 129 for the non-title bout, which drew a net of $16,170, of which 10 per cent went to the boxing service men's athletic fund.

Pep stepped out and started popping Wilson with both fists, missing quite a few but apparently never tiring. It was a case of the 20-year-old youngster, who won his 66th contest in 67 fights, having too much for the 33-year-old veteran.

Fans Grumbling

The fight was not good enough to quell the grumbling of hundreds of "ringsiders" who had to shell out $5.75 each for their seats. The consensus, judging from the after-battle talk, was that the price was too high.

In the semi-final Mayon Padlo, 149, of Philadelphia, methodically beat up Carmen Notch, 151, of Pittsburgh, flooring him for a nine count in the fourth and winning the ten rounds with ease.

Bee Bee Wright, 143, of Clairton, upset Jackie Armitage, 147, of New Kensington, in six fast rounds and Al Patterson, 208, of Pittsburgh, mauled his way to a decision in six rounds over Bearcat Jones, 185, Pittsburgh.

Judy Johnson Is Riding At Pimlico

Baltimore, April 27 (AP)—Judy Johnson, the first woman jockey in Maryland racing, had the mount on the jumper Lone Gallant today in the first race at Pimlico.

Miss Johnson, 29-year-old Washingtonian who has been a licensed trainer in the state for several years, was granted a rider's permit by the Maryland Racing commission at the start of the current Pimlico meeting.

After looking for more than a week for a likely spot in which to start one of her charges, she entered T. T. Mott's Lone Gallant in today's steeplechase, over Pimlico's "about two-mile" jumping course.

Contractor's Trial On In Federal Court

Philadelphia, April 27 (AP)—"Competitive" bids which the government contends, were not only identical but were on identical letterheads were in evidence today as the federal court trial of Charles H.

Rohleder, Philadelphia contractor, and three employees went into its second day.

The bids, allegedly submitted by Rohleder in his rehabilitation of Cramp's shipyard, are the basis for the government's charge of conspiracy to defraud in connection with the purchase of $200,000 worth of materials.

Special assistant attorney general Allen A. Doherty declared yesterday that the bids were "faked" by the contractor, who, he said, had been under instruction to get at least three competitive bids whenever possible.

Factory inspection became a responsibility of the British government in 1833.

MENNONITES ON FARMS AGAIN

Philadelphia, April 27 (AP)—Seven Wenger Mennonites were free to work on their Lancaster county farms today after serving less than four months of three-year sentences for refusing to report to work camps for selective service conscientious objectors.

Federal Judge William H. Kirkpatrick, who imposed the sentences, ordered them ended last Friday, he said, upon finding that the men "are now entitled to absolute agricultural deferments under the revised regulations."

"I felt that the proper thing to do was to reduce their sentences, inasmuch as they would not have been ordered to work camps had they been called up after the blanket agricultural deferment rule was made," Judge Kirkpatrick said.

The men, who refused to go to work camps on the grounds of religious scruples, were Wilson S. Mahlon S., and Ivan Martin, brothers; Ivan W. Leil, their cousin; John Paul Shirk and Weaver Weber Shirk, cousins, and Harry Hoover Martin.

JUST talked by phone with Bill O'Neil, President of General Tire in Akron . . . wanted to find out what's going on . . . the latest developments.

And, there's plenty cookin'. Yes sir, plenty.

Wish we could tell you all about it now . . . but there's no blackout in the laboratories of The General Tire & Rubber Company. The lights burn late.

Chemists, engineers, designers, testers are hard at work against the time when they can give us a brand new kind of Top-Quality General Tire to give you.

You've heard of Guayule, that shrub which gives real rubber, the large scale domestic growth of which was sponsored by General's President O'Neil.

You've heard of the new synthetic rubber factory, soon to start operation in Texas under General Tire.

You've heard of what wide use of rayon and nylon may do to tire construction.

Well, put these all together and then dream and scheme along with General's technicians. When that General Tire of the Future is here, we're going to be as happy to sell it as you will be to ride on it. We can tell you that much.

Seeing them so hard at work in Akron is going to make us work just that much harder to keep you going with recapping done by our skilled mechanics (right in our own shop) or with new tires on your certificates. Doing it will help to bring "tomorrow's General" just that much closer.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

"AFTER HOURS"

I would not steal away from care
One minute that it now requires,
But round about us everywhere,
When strength of wearying duty tires,
Is beauty for the eye to see
Of sky and stream and blossoming tree.

And round about the haunts of men
Are paths which lead to restful things:
The river's bank, the shady glen,
The tree loft where the cardinal sings,
The laughter of the running streams,
A veritable realm of dreams!

God understood that men would tire;
That gold and fame would not suffice;
That all would something more desire
Than wage and skill, however nice,
And so beyond the haunts of trade
Were hills and fields and rivers made.

And God commanded birds to sing
And strewed the fields with summer flowers,
He fashioned many a lovely thing
For man to turn to after hours,
Those after hours allowed to rest
When he could choose what pleased him best.

VISION

I have been privileged recently to spend a few days under the hospitable roof of friends in Miami Beach, Florida. I was among the earliest of visitors to this enchanted land. Miami was then but a small, quiet city of less than 20,000 folks. The beach was then connected by a ratty bridge, leading to but one hotel and a few scattered winter homes.

It was at this time, however, that two men came here who had big dreams—Jim Allison and Carl Fisher, both from Indianapolis. They saw in their mind's eyes, not a mere swamp with a little dry land showing, but a great modern playground, big enough for all the country to enjoy. Their dreams came true. Today Miami is a great city and port, and Miami Beach one of the most beautiful cities of flower-decked homes in all the world!

More than this, and more important, however, Miami (and Miami Beach) is today the greatest training center for our soldiers in all the land. It is an all-out territory, dedicated to world freedom. Everywhere there are marching, singing boys preparing to do their part in keeping this world a safe place in which to live. American fathers and mothers can be assured that their boys here are being given all that human thought and consideration can give.

The morale here is wonderful. No boy is being neglected. The recreation pier and canteen, with its many scattered branches, gives the boys a welcome that warms their hearts. Miami women are true heroines in this work. Here there is daily sunshine and here the mocking birds sing their songs both day and night, while multi-colored flowers cover grounds and homes in lavish fashion.

Both of those two men of vision are now gone, but others have long ago taken up their dreams and are today giving of their all to make this great center one that will echo its perfected work around the world. There is efficiency everywhere evident.

This great and useful State of Florida rests upon ageless coral rock, but today it is a fortress of Freedom. And from every citizen, worker, and soldier, a new vision is being born—a vision of a better world, a vision of peace in a free

End Of Filibuster Brings Peace In Legislature Today

MAY ADJOURN
NEXT WEEK AS BILLS MOVE ON

By WICK TEMPLE

Harrisburg, April 27 (AP)—The end of a Democratic filibuster against the Republican administration program restored peace at least temporarily in the Pennsylvania Legislature today after two weeks of bitter partisan wrangling.

GOP leaders, seeking to wind up Governor Martin's program as legislative machinery swung back into high gear, announced plans for final adjournment of the session next week.

The Senate quickly approved 31-12 and sent to the Chief Executive legislation re-enacting the emergency two-cents a package tax on cigarettes to return $26,000,000 during the next two years.

It also voted 30-15 to repeal the mercantile levy which would have brought in $7,800,000 biennially. The measure goes back to the House for concurrence in minor changes.

Asks "Decent Burial"
Overriding Democratic opposition, the upper chamber passed 29-16 a bill by Senator Louis H. Farrell (R-Phila.) to prohibit unincorporated associations—including labor unions—from making contributions to political organizations.

Another labor development was disclosure by Senator George Woodward (R-Phila.) that he would ask the GOP caucus to send back to committee for "a decent burial" his measure designed to regulate unions. He expressed opposition to revisions made by the Republican forces. Principal provisions remaining provide filing of financial statements by unions and ban political contributions.

Senator Joseph M. Barr (D-Allentown) was voted down 28-17 in an attempt to recommit the Woodward proposal. He declared the measure "a vicious attack" on labor unions and said his move was made "in the hope that it will meet its deserved death or the responsibility for its life will be fastened where it belongs, on the Republican party."

The House unanimously approved and sent to the Senate a bill by Rep. John E. Van Allsburg (R-Erie) revising relief laws and eliminating a requirement that families receiving assistance purchase a pint of milk daily for each child.

The lower chamber also approved allocation to second class townships and municipalities a half-cent of the three-cent a gallon gasoline tax and defeated 91-61 a proposal to prohibit the turning of silt-laden mine water into Pennsylvania streams.

Barr's Guiding Hand

Barr engineered the filibuster by requiring reading of bills in full instead of by the customary title. Announcing the slowdown had been called off, the Allegheny senator asserted, "our purposes have been accomplished" by focusing attention "on the intent of the Republican party."

He first raised the bill-reading rule two weeks ago, principally against Republican congressional reapportionment legislation and later extended it to include the administration program generally.

MASS ACTIVITY
IN WAR GARDENS

Harrisburg, April 27 (AP)—The state Defense Council Victory Garden committee today reported Pennsylvanians taking to home food growing almost en masse, including a Fayette county crippled woman who has vegetables growing in tubs on her front porch.

Mrs. H. B. Eliason, garden chairman, cited as "typical examples of initiative and determination" the hiring of a horse for the season by the Venango county garden committee and Lancaster obtaining a special priority for a tractor to plow 1,000 plots.

Even a 92-year-old Philadelphia has written for garden instructions, while in Butler, the Bantam Car company is operating a 100-acre farm and will sell vegetables at cost to employees.

Initial reports show Philadelphia has prepared 2,000 plots in Fairmount park and city-owned lots. Allentown has requests for 2,000 tracts, Harrisburg has assigned 1,500 gardens and Reading has doubled its last year's total of 100 acres.

Probe 1,000 Draft
Cases Each Month

Philadelphia, April 27 (AP)—Approximately 1,000 cases of suspected draft evasion are investigated in Philadelphia each month, says United States Attorney Edward A. Kallick.

Because 75 per cent prove to be "unconscious" or careless violations, however, only 250 will be presented to the May grand jury, Kallick said yesterday, most of them involving men allegedly not living with the families they claim as dependents.

Those who are not willful violators are permitted to report for induction instead of facing indictment, Kallick said.

BLOOD STREAM
INFECTION CURE
SUCCESS TOLD

By JACK SMITH

Philadelphia, April 27 (AP)—Ten days ago a pretty, blonde student nurse lay dying in Philadelphia's Hahnemann hospital from a deadly blood stream infection—staphylococcus aureus septicemia—a common aftermath of battlefield wounds with a mortality rate estimated by some specialists at as high as 95 per cent.

Today the girl is well.

Her quick recovery—credited by members of the hospital staff to revisions of a well established medical procedure—may, a hospital spokesman said, point the way to a saving of the lives of many wounded soldiers who otherwise would be considered beyond hope.

The case and three others identical with it were reported last night by Dr. George P. Miley, director of the hospital's ultra-violet blood irradiation clinic and clinical professor of pharmacology at the Hahnemann medical college, at an annual meeting of the college faculty.

Omit Drugs, Transfusions

Doctor Miley said the clinic in all four cases used a standard blood irradiation method known as the Knott technique, first publicized three years ago. The only new aspect in the cases, Doctor Miley said, was that no sulfa drugs were used beforehand and no blood transfusions were given.

It has been commonly recognized by doctors that sulfa drugs may have certain harmful effects, Doctor Miley said, adding that he could not explain definitely why the omission of sulfa drugs and transfusions was significant. He said, however, that seven other victims of the infection, given the blood irradiation therapy after having sulfa drugs and transfusions, had died.

In the Knott technique, a predetermined amount of blood is withdrawn from the body and chemically treated to prevent clotting. Then it is subjected to high intensity ultra violet rays and returned to the veins. The rays themselves do not destroy the infecting bacteria, but they raise the natural resistance of the body to such an extent that the body itself destroys the bacteria.

Common Occurrence

The technique has been used successfully in nearly all types of blood stream infections, Doctor Miley said, but it had been unsuccessful in cases of staphylococcus aureus septicemia.

This infection developing from untended localized infections, especially from crudely performed illegal abortions, is relatively uncommon in civilian life. Doctor Miley said five to ten cases a year are observed in larger medical centers.

"The infection is extremely common following war wounds, especially those where sulfa drugs have failed to control the local infection," Doctor Miley said. "Presumably it is common because war wounds often have to be neglected due to battle conditions."

Accidents Claim
Lives Of 2 Miners

Greensburg, Pa., April 27 (AP)—Accidents took the lives of two Westmoreland county miners yesterday, Coroner H. Albert McMurray reported.

Edward Gelsdorf, 54, of Peanut, was killed by a slate fall in the D. John Number 5 mine at New Derry. John Mike, 47, of Crabtree, died of burns suffered after an explosion in his kitchen stove, into which he had poured kerosene.

MURDER TRIAL OPENS

Franklin, Pa., April 27 (AP)—A jury of seven men and five women was chosen to try Henry James Jarzenski, 28, of Oil City, charged with the murder of Medric M. Maynard, 42, Pennsylvania railroad car inspector. Maynard died of injuries suffered on March 7 after a drinking party in Oil City.

Wounded In Tunisia

Lieut. Gen. Lesley J. McNair (above), commander of the United States Army ground forces, was wounded April 23 on the Tunisian front, the War department announced. The report said the circumstances are not yet known. (AP Photo from U.S. Army Signal Corps.)

MINERS ANXIOUS ABOUT FUTURE

Pittsburgh, April 27 (AP)—Approximately 8,500 soft coal miners, most of them employees of steel company owned "captive" mines, remained away from work today while the remainder of the 125,000 in western and central Pennsylvania anxiously awaited developments at a meeting of the United Mine Workers' policy committee in New York.

Before leaving for the conference, Joseph Yablonsky, district international board member of the union, said the walkout which started last week stemmed from the "tremendous unrest" among the coal diggers over failure of the union and operators to agree on a new contract. The old one expired April 1 and a 30-day extension was agreed upon last month.

Yablonsky predicted that before the week ends the entire district field would be closed, unless a contract is signed—which appeared to be impossible, since the War Labor board has taken over the dispute and UMW President John L. Lewis has refused to deal with the board.

11 Decorated For Anti-Sub Patrol

Tampa, Fla., April 27 (AP)—Eleven officers and enlisted men manning dive bombers yesterday were decorated with the American theatre ribbon for anti-submarine patrol duty in the Caribbean by Brig. Gen. Stephen H. Sherrill, commanding general of the Aircraft Warning Unit, Drew Field.

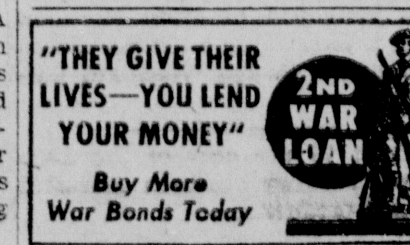

One of them, Staff Sergeant T. L. Tingwall of Salamanca, New York, has 1,000 hours of anti-submarine patrol duty since he was sent to the Panama Canal in December, 1941. "We have been credited with sinking four submarines," Sergeant Tingwall said.

Others decorated included: Lieut. Francis J. Fitzpatrick, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Sgt. A. P. Massel, Philadelphia, Pa.; and Pvt. C. E. Henry, Newell, Pa.

ELECTRICIAN KILLED
Pottsville, Pa., April 27 (AP)—Leo Bickley, 46-year-old father of seven, was killed by an electric shock yesterday at a substation of the Jones Coal company at Middleport, where he was employed as an electrician.

HOUSE ASKED TO RID BOOKS OF OBSOLETE LAWS

By RALPH E. WALLIS

Harrisburg, April 27 (AP)—Members of the Pennsylvania Legislature were warned today to think twice before rounding up any stray horses or asking a jail warden to set up the drinks—someone might dust off almost-forgotten laws.

Rep. H. David Sarge, Lebanon county Republican, contended in a speech prepared for delivery in the House the commonwealth statute books should not be cluttered with obsolete laws. He said, however, that his proposal for a commission to study the problem is probably "consigned to the tongueless silence of the dreamless dust of the pickling vat, from which no bill ever returns."

"Under an act of 1763," Sarge declared, "a person obtaining possession of a trespassing horse or other animal must advertise in the Pennsylvania Gazette three times or otherwise suffer the penalty of five pounds."

"Five Pounds of Horse?" "I do not object to the advertisement but I can't find the Pennsylvania Gazette nor do I know what pounds of what with which I will be penalized. Must I give up five pounds of the horse?"

He explained an 1857 law prohibits slaughter houses within 200 yards of an incorporated cemetery in York and Philadelphia counties and asked "why wouldn't this be undesirable for Pennsylvania's 65 other counties?"

"Vicious Infants"
A law of 1836 refers to "incorrigible and vicious infants," the representative revealed, and added "I thought we had become more civilized and that witchery has its place only on Halloween Day."

Other old laws cited by Sarge would:

Ban sheriffs and keepers of jails from selling liquor, cider or punch (1730).

Require inn keepers to provide good entertainment for man and horse (1834).

Judge "Cools Off"
Before Sentencing

Easton, Pa., April 27 (AP)—Judge Frank P. McCluskey gave himself a week "to cool off" before passing sentence on a 30-year-old Allentown truck driver who pleaded guilty to stealing shirts manufactured for Army officers.

The jurist sharply rebuked William Kuke after he entered his plea yesterday, demanding: "What do you mean by taking shirts going to the boys in the service? Don't you know there is a shortage of material?"

County Detective John Ruppert testified that Kuke stole approximately 300 shirts from a Northampton plant over a two-year period, selling some for about $60 a dozen.

Miners Go Back
To Work Today

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., April 27 (AP)—More than 1,000 employees of number 6 colliery of the Susquehanna Collieries company today returned to their jobs, terminating a two-day strike caused by grievances over wage rates.

The workers, however, in voting to return to work stipulated that all grievances must be adjusted satisfactorily by Thursday.

Harrisburg, April 27 (AP)—Chairman A. H. Letzler of the Senate Law and Order committee disclosed today that legislation to permit licensing organizations to operate bingo games would be killed by his group. The senator also said his mail reflected "almost unanimous opposition" to a bill legalizing Sunday movies in communities near military posts. The committee is expected to act on this measure today.
